

Biography Erin Ackenheil

Erin Ackenheil is a dynamic speaker, motivator and entrepreneur. Erin spent over 20 years in corporate America leading Medicare Sales, most notably as an executive for a fortune 50 company for the last 8 years of her carrier career. In 2016, Erin launched BlackPoint Insurance, a general agency, where the focus is on supporting agents who want to launch, grow and retain their Medicare business, with an emphasis on Part D, Medicare Supplement and Advantage products. Erin is an accomplished trainer, author and educator; She hosts This is 65, a live broadcast featuring accomplished entrepreneurs & community leaders, whom she meets through her work, bringing important topics to her audience (everything from insurance, housing, growing your business, health & wellness and more!) Erin produces the Medicare Minute, a weekly video series on social media, breaking down complicated topics in small increments. Erin lives in Northern California with her family; when she's not working she enjoys spending time with her husband, 3 children & her dog Stanley!

www.blackpointinsurance.com

